133 Same, 1 shott (15 cents).
134 Same, 2 and 1-shott pieces. (2.)

These peculiar and rude coins are the only silver coins ever struck by the Corean Government. The fact that none have ever appeared in a coin sale is sufficient proof of their rarity. This money was struck to indemnify China, but the Mint was destroyed by fire when but little had been coined, which accounts for its great rarity.

135 Roman Imperial. Gallicinus. Varieties. Good to fine. 4.
136 Salonia. Varieties. Fine. 2.
137 Salonius. Varieties. Good. 3.

QUARTER DOLLARS.

243. 1796. Uncirculated, with brilliant proof surface. A strong, sharp, even impression; the stars very sharp and prominent. Two very trifling little scratches that can hardly be seen without the aid of a glass. Rev. equally well struck, with fine drift marks, which, I believe, appear on all fine quarters of 1796. A proof impression several years ago sold for $125. One in Frossard's sale of his private collection, hardly as fine as this one, brought $51. Excessively rare in this condition.
244 1807. Fair.

HALF DIMES.

271 1795. Fine. Two trifling dents.
272 1801. Fair. The date fine.
273 1802. Hair lines well defined. Features perfect. All the stars Liberty and date well struck, the milling and stars behind th head not as prominent as they are to the right or facing. Thi is true of all of the few pieces known of this excessively rar coin, including the proof piece I bought on an order in the El sale for $400. Reverse, legend and eagle distinct. This piec is worth twice as much as the one I sold Colonel Matthews fo $100, and better than one that sold in one of Mr. Woodward sales a few years ago for $150. For this rare date it can b classed as fine, and of the 11 or 12 known I believe this is the finest (outside of two proofs included in that number) known The 1802 half dime is equally as rare as the 1804 dollar.
274 1803. Very good. Rare.
275 1829. Uncirculated. Proof surface.

NOTE.—This currency was the result of long and tedious experiments by Dr. Gwynn. In Mr S. M. Clark's report to the Secretary of the Treasury in 1865, a full account will be found. Mr. C. was at that time chief of the Fractional Currency Bureau. The substance of the report is as follows: Dr. Gwynn earnestly devoted himself to the experiments of dry printing, to give me his aid in the work. The first membrane paper provided was unsatisfactory. The peculiar process of making rendered it more liable to split than ordinary bank-note paper, and was abandoned; but experiments were immediately made to overcome this difficulty, and ultimately with entire success. He now produces a paper which cannot be dissolved in hot or cold water, which cannot be split, which has an irremovable, non-photographic tint in its spider-leg fibre, and which takes ink more readily, retains it longer, wears better, and is in every respect the best paper ever manufactured for the purpose. Dr. Gwynn about this time was arrested and imprisoned through some difficulty in regard to dry process of printing, and the whole scheme fell through. Only one sheet of each was made as a sample. They are unquestionably the rarest, by far, of all currency known or ever offered for sale. I received a few of these notes from a Treasury official in exchange some years ago. These now offered (none ever sold except by me) are the last, and if collectors knew that they are ten times as rare as any ever sold, they would command a price commensurate with their great rarity.
